OWEN MOORE COMEDY AT COLUMBIA TODAY

When Melville Carruthers decided to propose to Grace Adams it was the most momentous decision he had ever arrived at. So, armed with a large, luxurious bunch of orchids and a Pomeranian pup he called forth.

When he arrived at the house he had forgotten what he wanted to say, and after looking at Grace's father he forgot what he had come for.

Then Melville felt blue and went in search of adventure. He found it in the shape of a nice bump on his head, caused by violent contact with an empty bottle in the hands of an irate bouncer. Then Melville decided life was too strenuous, anyway, and he would put an end to his share of it. When he found all his friends not only ready, but eager to help him, he changed his mind; he was a very clean-minded chap, he changed it every few minutes. Then the excitement comes thick and fast. Owen Moore will be seen as Melville Carruthers in his latest comedy, "The Poor Simple," at Maury's Columbia theater today and tomorrow.

'EARTHBOUND' TO END LOCAL RUN THURSDAY

Today and tomorrow, just two days left of the engagement at the Strand of "Earthbound," Basil King's tremendous sensation which has been made by Goldwyn into one of the biggest motion picture achievements recorded in years.

"Earthbound" has astounded the entire nation not only with the intensity of its theme, but with the unusual presentation and the terrific influence of its plot. Dealing with the problem of life after death, the subject is one that has attracted widespread interest among the most prominent people in all walks of life, and the picture has been the subject of innumerable printed reviews, treatises, opinions and discussions.

An all-star cast interprets the various roles, insuring the scene in delineation, while the photography is the last word in excellence.

There's a dancing palace in Phoenix that has come to mean everything that is snappy and up-to-date in dancing, a spot where the best of music is played—the American dancing academy. It's fortunate that the American is just around the corner from everything that happens in Phoenix, and every seeker of joy and pleasure is always assured the brightest of all spots being within calling distance, the American.

"That wonderful band at the American is now working on some new stuff in addition to the list of everything that is new and peppy, and before the week is out American patrons will be given some very agreeable surprises in the way of novelty and snappy dancing numbers.

You probably have heard that during the past two weeks the American has continued to increase in popularity and each evening the attentive dance hall is filled to the extent of its capacity earlier than before. Most joy hunters who have been aware of this are now coming to the American as soon as the dance starts.

Grand Opera Christmas Day
The San Carlo Grand Opera company arrives by special train from El Paso Christmas morning, Dec. 25, and will give two performances at the Elks theater. "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" in the afternoon and "Rigoletto" in the evening.

The company numbers over one hundred people and requires five cars to move it and its effects. One of the greatest worries of W. C. Carmichael, company manager, is to keep the baggage of the prima donna within bounds. In every city these singers accumulate new clothes, books, souvenirs, presents of every description.

In Waco, Texas, where the company played a record breaking engagement at the Cotton Palace exposition, it was showered with flowers and other gifts at every performance. One enthusiastic ranchman roped a pet deer and dragged it down to the main as the company departed. He insisted on presenting it to Mme. Consuelo Escobar, the coloratura soprano. Her eyes glowed as brightly as the deer's when she saw him, but Mr. Carmichael made a noise like a wounded stag. He was willing to find room for three trunks full of Mme. Escobar's hats, but to take on a deer—not a chance! "If you begin to carry a menagerie," muttered Carmichael, "we will soon be a circus."

"Good!" answered Mme. Escobar, "I will sell the peanuts and the red lemonade."

The deer was left behind in Waco, but the train-load of temperamental stars is lively enough without him. There are Mesdames Bettina Freeman, Stella de Mette, Madeline Kean, May Hutton, Alice Homer, Frances Morris, and to mention a score of budding prima donnas of intense Italian tenors.

Blue Bird
There's going to be a lot of competition in the hat-trimming affair which will be staged Friday night at the Blue Bird. "The Temple of Happiness" is promising a real treat in this novel which is without question one of the biggest novelties yet. The arrangements call for the men to actually trim ladies' hats, the management furnishing the shape and the paraphernalia with which to work, and to the fellow who does the best job will go the prize. If anything could be originated that would guarantee any more fun for the crowd than this event, what on earth could it be?

Another of E. S. Mayfield's dancing classes is to be held from 8 to 9 this evening. Appointments for instruction may be made either in person or by phone.

De Koven Opera Interests Many.
The coming of "Robin Hood" is proving an interesting topic. This latest of all American comic operas will be at the Elks theater Sunday and Monday, Dec. 19-20.

Ralph Dunbar, whose advance into prominence among producers has been rapid, in noting this situation, concluded that if the millions in the middle west cities were accorded a square deal in the production of real comic opera with the same standards of uprightness prevailing that govern legitimate merchandising, a relation of confidence would result which would make possible the bringing of these classic productions fully equal to the best offered anywhere. To test his judgment, he invested a large sum in a complete new production of "Robin Hood," and with the exception of Reginald De Koven and payment to the latter of a heavy royalty, he or-

CASA GRANDE NEWS

Extensive changes and improvements in organization in the school will take place after the holidays. The high school will occupy the new building and effect their permanent organization including a revision in schedule and the adoption of military training. The departmental school will be discontinued and a junior high school organized. The fourth and sixth grades will occupy rooms in the grade building instead of their temporary quarters in the churches. Georgia Browning will be principal in the six grades; M. C. Windsor principal of the junior high; Eva Louise Steers assistant. It is planned to add the ninth grade to the school next year. The junior high school will occupy rooms in the new high school building.

Miss Gertrude Bartels left Friday evening for Los Angeles where she will visit before going to her home in Denver, Colo. Her place in the schools has been filled by the election of Mrs. Clifford Pouk.

R. B. Hardesty and family have returned to Casa Grande after spending a year at their former home in Illinois. They will stay here permanently. Mr. Hardesty's brother and family also are here looking for a location.

Mrs. Look, sister of Postmaster Parker, is here with her baby for a visit. She lives in California but says the climate doesn't compare with that of Arizona.

Mrs. Arthur Elliot, who has been ill, is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weaver are the proud parents of a baby girl named Hazel Lorene. This young couple, former residents of Casa Grande, are living in Hayden.

G. T. Richards, former nurseryman of this place, has returned from a visit to Gardena, Calif., bringing a party of friends, who are looking for a place to prospect very favorable.

The Girl Scouts will hold a bazaar Saturday in the Casa Grande Development company office, next to the post office. Dolls, sewing, cookery and luncheon will be sold.

A. J. Vance is here from Long Beach looking after his land interests in the valley. He is an experienced mining man and after investigation reports the gold prospects very favorable. John Arnold is with him looking over the valley.

The regular municipal Christmas program and treat will be given this afternoon of Dec. 23 in the high school auditorium. Every child in town is urged to be present.

A very successful and well attended "mum party" was given Friday evening by the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor.

Dr. Foster's son of Pomona, Cal., unloaded a carload of farming implements last week, to be used in extensive improvements on land near here. He is an experienced citrus grower.

The various Sunday schools of the town are planning Christmas programs and treats.

The state president, Mrs. Flannigan, is expected to be present at the Woman's club meeting next Saturday.

F. J. Crider, horticulturist at the university, was here Friday to consult with County Agent Turville on various questions.

The Ronstadt company is having a new business building erected on Florence street.

HIS WARBLING WAS VERY APPROPRIATE
TOLEDO—John Carrot, an onion grower, was plucked for getting drunk on hair tonic. He spent the night in jail singing, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Organized his great company. The plans matured before Mr. De Koven's death are being carried out as arranged.

Since the 200 cities have enjoyed real comic opera. Such a production is musical entertainment at its best, it does not depend on half clad girls nor salacious dialogue for its hit or its crowd. It attracts real folks and gives them an evening of genuine delight.

The Hip
Harry Carey returns to The Hip to play a two days' engagement today in "Human Stuff." Carey's portrayal of western life is a characterization entirely his own. His work differs from that of any other star and his stories combine the element of human appeal with the sensation of thrilling action.

"Human Stuff" will be found another example of his art, unfolding its plot amid the atmosphere of the early west. The story is one of adventure and intrigue, with a foundation of a very strong love story.

A strong crowd will be seen in support of the star, insuring the patrons of The Hip a guaranteed attraction, highly entertaining and up to the standard long since set by this exponent of western life.

A Christie comedy is the added attraction.

The Ramona
One of the biggest musical comedy treats ever offered Arizona audiences is the way the Ramona clientele describes "Mack's Merry Melodians," the clever organization which is delighting capacity houses daily at this popular amusement place. They feature matinees every day and offer a line of bright, snappy, musical mirth interspersed with fun making situations, and excellently drilled and costumed chorus and talented comedians.

The "Delightful Dancing Dollies" during the present bill have any number of songs and dances and never fail to score heavily with each one of them.

Dolly Fowler, the dainty soubrette; Anita Meredith, the prima donna, and Pat Peterson, with Violet Vernon and the Harmony Trio take care of the principal part of the program in a very admirable manner.

The motion picture program features Bill Burke in "Away Goes Prudence," with the added comedy feature, "You Tell 'Em, Lions—I Roar."

"Her Second Honeymoon"
A riot from start to finish with a laugh in every line, is "Her Second Honeymoon," playing at the Elks theater this week. The Brandon stock company chose well when they selected this vehicle for the week's program, for never have local audiences been so thoroughly amused as with this decidedly clever farce-comedy.

Every one of the cast appears in a part that seems to be especially well handled by them, and from the dainty lead, Miss Marie Rich, to the Amelican body servant, the entire company seems at their best. They are all there, distracting Bobby Dean, Eddie Young with his song and dance, Glenn Hood, who charms with his delightful voice, George, Harry, Jay, Allan, Wayne Campbell, Ed Remond, Mary Fladsh and Rose Pomeroy and the little Irene Moblett with those violet eyes. The music is especially clever this week, several new feature songs being presented with the pep and dash that bespeaks the favorite songsters of the company and the clever chorus. And the show itself is entirely different, so much so that unless one has seen it they cannot realize what an altogether original and unique performance it really is.

"Her Second Honeymoon" will be presented the remainder of this week, with a matinee this afternoon.

Market News

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Dealings on the stock exchange again were on a large and comprehensive scale, totaling 1,275,000 shares, but the strong and confident undertone was in striking contrast to the acute depression of the previous day.

There was practically no selling for cash, a fact which upset the calculations of those who had eagerly accepted the theory that extensive offering that character would of necessity precede tomorrow's income tax payments.

The money market was another stabilizing factor, call and time rates showing no deviation from recent quotations, despite the heavy shifting of funds arising from tomorrow's federal requirements.

Fundamental or basic conditions pertaining to general trade and industry were unchanged, and railway earnings continued disappointing, but the market's upward course and scant supply of certain stocks suggested that the recent liquidation had exceeded reasonable or safe bounds.

Oils were the outstanding features, Mexican petroleum closing at a net gain of 7 points and Royal Dutch recovering more than half of yesterday's loss at an advance of 5 1/2. In the steel, equipment, railroad, textile and food divisions advances of 2 to almost 4 points were largely retained, not a few final quotations being the highest of the session.

Weakness was confined to some of the motor specialties and metals, the latter easing on reports of another reduction in the price of refined copper.

Trading in foreign exchange was at a minimum, but greater steadiness prevailed in rates to London and Paris, also to Spain and northern Europe, Greek remittances, however, receding again.

Bonds did not participate in the recovery of stocks, most issues including all the Liberty group, easing fractionally to a point. Sales, par value, $22,500,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today, largely owing to indications that the period of liquidation in grain was at an end. Congressional action looking to relief of agricultural interests was also generally regarded as a bullish factor. Export demand together with the fact that only 15,000,000 bushels of the visible supply of wheat is at western terminals counted likewise in favor of an advance in prices. Opening quotations, which varied from 1/2 off to 1 1/2c gain, with December at $1.70 and March at $1.81 1/2 to $1.83, were followed by a sharp upturn all around and then something of a reaction.

Corn displayed independent strength. After opening at 1/2c decline to 1/4c advance, including May 72c to 72 1/2c, the market scored a general upturn.

Oats were lifted by the action of other cereals, starting unchanged to 1/4c lower, May 49 1/2c and then quickly hardening.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened the provision market.
